Printing deadlines for ads, articles, illustrations, comments, etc., is the first day of the month before the Quarter, e.g., 1 June 2017 for the Third Quarter 2017 issue. Your cooperation in meeting these goals is appreciated. Editor.

Membership information and Dues ($25/yr.; $45/2 yrs.; $65/3 yrs., paid to "S.C.C.S.") should be sent to the Treasurer. Requests for back issues and information concerning this Journal, including submission of articles and advertisements and rates for same should be addressed to the Editor. Thanks!

Last November, I got an email from a man on the west coast who was leading a stamp club and wanted to give them some information of souvenir cards. I prepared and sent him the text which I reproduce here on pp. 22-23.

If you have friends who still collect stamps and are in any way involved with kids (who are able to set aside their electronics, however briefly) please feel free to pass on the information. Lorne Lavertu is still offering to sponsor memberships (see p. 21).

As Treasurer, I remind you that on the mailing label there are two numbers above your name. The left one is the year your membership is paid through—we are on a calendar year basis—the right one is your membership number. I had a request for an invoice, and/or a renewal notice. I had to advise that we/I don't send them and I usually start a renewal notice with the Third Quarter issue. The final notice is in the Fourth Quarter issue. Members whose dues are not received when the First Quarter issue goes in the mail, will NOT receive it or any further issues until their dues are received. I ask for/need your help in keeping this Society functioning! Please respond in a timely fashion! Thanks!

Well here we are, as I write this in the middle of March, and there is no word from the BEP about an intaglio print program for this year—Fiscal or calendar. I don't know if anyone was selected to fill the position formerly occupied by Kathryn Smith who retired in December, or if the new Secretary of the Treasury has any plans or, maybe, hasn't yet realized that the BEP is part of his realm. The entire administration seems to be in a state of suspended animation!

As you will see in the Specimen book (p. 9 ff.) the BEP used to have a lot of plates of old money issues. In fact, they used to use some of them for souvenir card illustrations, especially in connection with numismatic shows. I never did learn why/who stopped that, but since their show attendance is limited by the costs of security, etc., and so we are now dealing with intaglio prints. They are not nominally designated to any particular show. They are still fine pieces of intaglio printing. The "money cards" were an attraction for paper money collectors, and when they were stopped, the Society lost some members. Maybe the new staff will find a way to bring them back!

Speaking of shows, some of our Florida members were on hand, recently, at two of them: FUN, in Ft. Lauderdale, and ANA, in Orlando (see pp. 16 & C3).

Your Editor can always use input! How about writing something of interest to you—it might just be of interest to other members! What do you collect? How do you "house" your collection? Maybe some pics? What got you into collecting in the first place? How often do you review your collection? Do you keep records of your purchases and/or a "want list"? How? Try it, you may actually like it? No writing experience necessary!

Auction No. 40: Bids due 29 April 2017

[I show here (and the back cover) scans from a presentation album that is in the Smithsonian's National Numismatic Collection. They were forwarded to me by both Greg Alexander and Steve Patrick. I chose to show them in color (next six pages). In the original, presumably "life size," the notes were mounted two to a page (front above back). I have reduced them to save production costs. You should be aware that many notes included herein have appeared on BEP souvenir cards. How many can you find? Ed.]

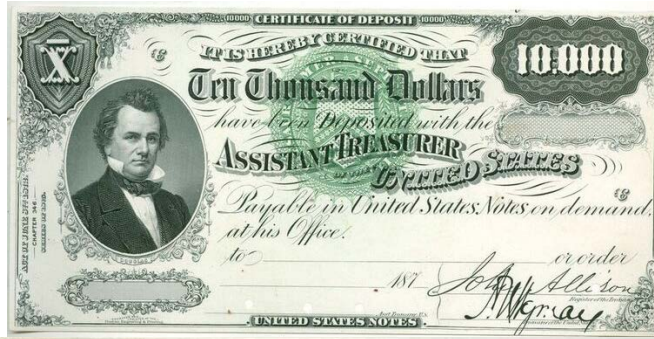

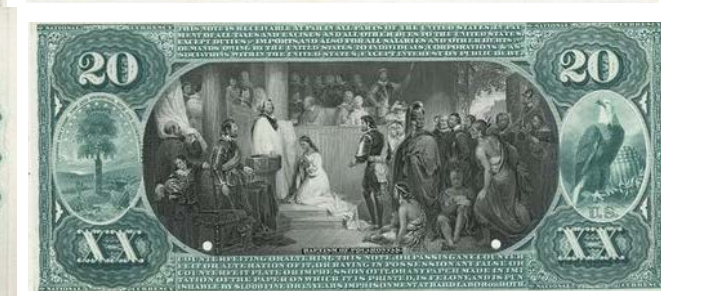

John Sherman (1823-1900), who had been a career Senator (1855-1877), was appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Rutherford B. Hayes. He oversaw national policy on the postwar banking system. He advocated a gold standard and built up the Nation's gold reserve. In 1880 he recommended sweeping changes in public service to retain valuable employees, resulting in the Civil Service Act of 1883. At the end of Hayes' presidency, Sherman returned to the Senate and continued to fight against currency backed by silver.

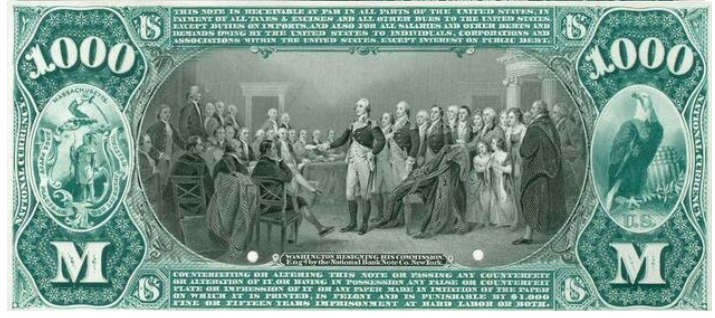

SCCS PRESENCE AT FUN

A. Stephen Patrick

The Florida United Numismatists (FUN) returned to Ft. Lauderdale after many years. The SCCS had a show table manned by myself, Steve Costner, and O.T. Thompson. Unfortunately, it was in a remote area and got very little traffic. However, all card collectors met at retired plate printer Mike Bean's spider press area twice a day for drawings of a free intaglio show card [viewed from SCCS table, below].

Mike prepared 100 cards to be distributed daily by drawings at 12:00 and 4:00 [opposite, top]. Thirty to forty people would show up for the drawings, and dealer Lee Quast was buying cards at $20 for his customer list, but he still needs a few more. I won three cards: one for me, one for my friend Carlos Guffain, and one I sold to Lee that paid for my dinner at the 15th Street Fish Market.

Mike also prepared about 250 other cards for sale at $3.00 that includes three vinettes and took six passes. Those who attended the SCCS meeting on Saturday were presented with a free card. I gave a PowerPoint presentation on a retrospective of Mike Bean's work including pulled proofs from BEP show cards and others from his work with Chapter One, NAPEX, and other private cards. Bill Kriebel is trying to catalogue all his work, but even Mike can't remember all the things he has done.

Other SCCS members I saw included Al Course who in his 80's is still trying to complete PS show cancelled cards. He needs one seldom seen card which is the "Postal People" special card. Jim Suchma of Houston, Texas, gave me his renewal check. He works for the Federal court system and has given money cards to judges who really appreciate the beauty. I also met Chris Baker, one of our younger members who works with Atlas Numismatics in Brooklyn.

The show was brought to silence on Friday with the announcement of the Ft. Lauderdale shooting. Since the venue is attached to the port facility, traffic was affected as thousands were bussed to the port for safety and relocation. Cruise customers were affected and perhaps some attendees who left early.

I was attracted to the booth of Thomas Stebbins, a young (30's) artist/engraver from Pennsylvania. He is a self-taught engraver who produces what he calls "digital engraving." These are fantasy bank notes done in engraved style but not printed on plates. He has studied with Chris Madden and Tom Hipschen from the BEP and with J.S.G. Boggs, and has done copper plates. He is producing a series of 50 notes for every state of the union. He has finished 26 states, and I purchased all that he had at the show. Check out Thomas Stebbins – Artist on the internet and see examples of some of his portraits, vinettes, and scroll work that appear on his notes.

The show was well run, and I represented the SCCS at the FUN luncheon for member clubs. Their organization is going to help run the ANA Money Show in Orlando on March 9 to 11. Several members are going to try and have a SCCS table. The BEP has announced that they will be at the ANA so look for one card at least this year.

WANTED TO BUY- Early Mike Bean cards - MB-1 - MB-29 (need 15 cards in the group total). If interested in offering/selling contact spladna@nc.rr.com - Thanks! Steve Pladna (141).

Souvenirs are as old as there are/were events, and a desire for people to have something to remember them by. In the simplest form they were entry tickets (or stubs) and, certainly, photographs! There were also cards/photos that were sold or given away as advertisements by various vendors. Even our own Government Printing Office printed engraved, or intaglio (pronounced "intalyo"), souvenir cards for various events, e.g., the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition of 1907, and memorials, in which our government was involved.

Souvenir cards, as we might consider them in connection with philately, are generally, but not necessarily, related to philatelic and numismatic shows/exhibitions. Some "cards" are actually printed on paper, but are still considered "cards." Some people consider the paper printings to be "souvenir sheets", but the difference is that the "sheets" are valid for postage, whereas, the "cards" are not. Most people collect "mint" cards, but some also apply theme-related stamps and have them "show-canceled."

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing (BEP) produced their first philatelic card for SANDIPEX, the San Diego Philatelic Exposition, in July 1969. It used the same images (three Washington "scenes") from a card produced by union members of the BEP three years earlier for SIPEX, the Sixth International Philatelic Exhibition, held in Washington, DC. Their next card appeared in connection with the American Numismatic Association (ANA) 78th Anniversary Convention, held in Philadelphia, PA, in August 1969. The card featured three eagles. It was followed two months later by a card for the Fresno (CA) Numismatic Society, which again used the "scenes." (The Scott's Catalogue did not initially list numismatic cards, and, now, only lists those cards which show "money".)

The first BEP card featuring stamps came the following month for the American Stamp Dealers Association (ASDA) 21st National Postage Stamp Show in New York City. The card featured a block of four of the first U.S. special delivery stamp (Scott E1) with the value deleted. The Bureau continued producing philatelic show cards, with theme related stamp issues, and numismatic show cards, with beautiful reproductions of old large-sized bank-notes. They also produced some special prints, which did not include any reference to the shows at which they were issued.

During the year 2000, the Bureau did not produce any show-related cards, but did issue one-a-month cards, featuring various themes. Show cards resumed in 2001. The 2010 ANA's World's Fair of Money card was the last one that included the show's name. The cost of the BEP participation in a show—space, security, etc.—which was to be born by the presenter—limited its participation to about one show a year, for the ANA. The BEP now issues "intaglio prints", the latest of which will be issued on September 22, 2014, honors our Coast Guard. It is the 313th Bureau issue, in their current program.

The U.S. Post Office Department (now the Postal Service or USPS) produced their first card for the 1st Philatelic Congress held in Barcelona, Spain, and issued it on March 26, 1960. It would be eight years later before their second card appeared, in connection with EFIMEX, the International Philatelic Exposition, held in Mexico, which featured an enlarged reproduction of the $1, "Western Cattle" stamp (Scott 292). These cards were intaglio printed by the BEP. They were either given away or sold for a nominal fee ($1±). As a result they were available (and saved) in quantity. Subsequent cards were produced for national and international philatelic shows, some in offset printing. If the stamp was at or close to actual size, the value (numeral/text) was deleted. The 71st and last card issued by the Postal Service was for OLYMPHILEX, an International Philatelic Exhibition, held in Barcelona, in May 1972. Ironically, their first and last cards—for shows held in the same city in Spain—are the most "valuable," the first because it was not well advertised (?), and as stocks of the latter, for some unknown reason, disappeared.

The United States Bank Note Company printed an engraved sheet featuring a miner panning for gold, and an eagle, for SIPEX, the Sixth International Philatelic Exhibition, held in Washington, DC, in 1966. Then the American Bank Note Company (ABNCo) produced several sheets of engraved images that were given away at INTERPHIL, the next International Philatelic Exhibition, held in Philadelphia, in 1976. Subsequently, ABNCo produced/sold cards for philatelic and numismatic shows for the next twenty years, utilizing their stock of steel engravings that had served the security industry for many previous years. (In the age of electronics, stock/bond certificates bearing engraved images or logos of the related companies/corporations are no longer produced.)

Other organizations produce souvenir cards: the American Philatelic Society (APS), American Stamp Dealers Association (ASDA), NAPEX, and the Souvenir Card Collectors Society (SCCS). These are annual or directly related to one or more shows with which the group is/are involved. The NAPEX and SCCS cards are intaglio, whereas the others are offset printed. There are also privately produced souvenir cards from regional or local "clubs" which are, generally, offset printed.

The United Nations (UN) and some foreign governments also issue souvenir cards. There are a few countries who still produce engraved postal issues.

[The Souvenir Card Collectors Society was formed in 1981 as national organization of souvenir card and intaglio-printed vignette collectors and dealers, and issues a quarterly journal and an annual souvenir card, as part of its membership dues of $25/yr. Further information may be found on the APS website: stamps.org]

[Since this was written, I am not sure if the UN is still issuing souvenir cards, which were usually related to their stamp issues. Ed.]

J.S.G. BOGGS DIES AT 62

William Kriebel

"Sitting in a Chicago diner in 1984, the artist Stephen Boggs began doodling on a paper napkin as he consumed a coffee and a doughnut. He started with the numeral 1, then transformed it into the image of a dollar bill.

"His waitress, impressed, offered to buy it. Mr. Boggs refused, but presented it in payment for his 90-cent tab. The waitress handed him 10 cents in change.

"An idea was born."

[William Grimes, The New York Times, 1/29/2017.]

This was the opening of a half-page article describing the artist's life and unusual career—drawing his own money, and presenting it as payment for purchases, noting on the back of his bills (which were blank), and sold the receipts to collectors who would try (sometimes with Boggs's paid help) to track down the original notes.

Boggs was born Stephen Litzner in Woodbury, NJ, on 16 January 1955. His mother divorced his father and remarried when he was an infant. He later added the names "James" and "George."

By the very nature of his "art," he had multiple run-ins with law enforcement and Secret Service officials both in this country and abroad.

[See some examples on page C2.]

Journalist Lawrence Weschler wrote a profile on him in The New Yorker in 1988, which evolved into a book, "Boggs: A Comedy of Values," published in 1999.

His body was found in a Tampa, Florida motel, cause of death undetermined.
